Though Suffering and Exhausted, Dr. Tanper Refuses to Surrender.

VIEWS OF HIS FELLOW-PHYSICIANS-DANGER TO BE APPREHENDED FROM THE BREAKING OF HIS FAST.

NEW YORK, August 4 .- Though in the earlier period of his fast Dr. Tanner some-times amused bimself by anticipations of the fruit-feast he intended to have on the completion of his task, of late he has been Kentucky who perished in battle on Floyd's averse to saying anything whatever on the subject of eating. Indeed, he has objected to any one mentioning food of any kind in the Shelbyville road. to any one mentioning food of any kind in his hearing, and the watchers, knowing this, have been careful to avoid the irritating topic. Yesterday, however, by seizing a favorable opportunity, one of the reporters ventured to open the matter of the proposed fruit and milk banquet which it was proposed to spread in the Belbeville road.

As a descendant of pioneer ancestry, I claim the privilege, in justice to historic veracity, to correct some flagrant if not inexcusable errors, both historical and geographical, that appear in the proceedings on that occasion.
